

TheGallery

The Arts University College at Bournemouth

Saturday 28th January 2012

10.30am – 5.00pm

Art work by Katie Doyle

This symposium sets out to investigate the effectiveness of the programming and management of Galleries based in and largely funded by Universities and Colleges and to evaluate the impact on the learning environment. How does 'the gallery' within a higher education institution define its relationship to the learning, teaching and research associated with creative art, design and media curricula? The gallery is a physical space, a place of exhibition and congregation, and a conceptual space that can sustain a wider sharing of ideas through discourse and critical exchanges: a space of bringing in and sending out.

Keynote Speaker Sarah Shalgosky - Curator at the Warwick Arts Centre

10.30 - 11.00	Registration in the TheGallery AUCB	Tea and Coffee
11.00 - 11.10	Introduction to the Symposium	Professor Jim Hunter	Deputy Principal AUCB
11.10 - 11.20	Introduction to the Leadership Project	Stephanie James	Associate Dean/Head of Visual Arts AUCB
11.20 - 12.00	Keynote	Sarah Shalgosky	Curator at Warwick Arts Centre University of Warwick
12.00 - 12.50	2 Case Studies reflection on the role of research in the gallery	Chaired by Dr Steve Swindells	Director of Research and Director of Graduate Education University of Huddersfield
12.50 - 13.30	Lunch in the Arts Bar
13.30 - 14.20	2 Case Studies focusing on budgets: both great and small	Chaired by Martin Downie	Dean of Faculty of Arts York St John University
14.20 - 15.10	2 Case Studies discussing impact, partnerships and student participation	Chaired by Professor Karen Fleming	Director Research Institute Art and Design University of Ulster
15.10 - 15.30	Break for tea in TheGallery
15.30 - 16.30	Plenary session	Professor Jim Hunter	Deputy Principal AUCB
16.30 - 17.00 glass of wine	Talk on the Fashion Revolution China Exhibition in TheGallery, Tour of Exhibition	Anthony Bednall	Associate Dean/Head of Design AUCB
17.00 onwards	End of Symposium

Booking information:

Admission Free (including refreshments and lunch)

Booking essential (numbers limited)

To book a place for the above symposium please email Barbara Grundy, bgrundy@aucb.ac.uk or telephone TheGallery Office on 01202 363272

For further information on Art School Galleries of the Future Symposium please visit our website www.aucb.ac.uk

